PINCHOT SUGGESTED HENRY TO COUZENS TO PROBE MELLON

Gov. Scores Watson For His Statement on Floor of Senate; Wants Fish
When He Makes Cast.

HENEY A T. R. MAN

Harrisburg, Pa., April 14. (INS.)—Francis J. Henev, of California, "a man whom Senator Couzens' committee would be fortunate to secure as counsel," in the investigation of the administration of the Internal Revenue Bureau, under Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Gov. Pinchot declared last night in replying to charges of Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, that the Pennsylvania governor had inspired the choice of counsel, and had done so to obtain a searching inquiry into the activities of the prohibition department.

After the investigation was ordered by the Governor, "I got in touch with Senator Couzens on the question of prohibition enforcement, and on that alone. In conversation with him I suggested, as others had done before, the name of Mr. Henev, a trusted friend of President Roosevelt, for whom he conducted investigations, as that of a man whom Senator Couzens' committee would be fortunate to secure as counsel."

Replying to Senator Watson's statement on the floor of the Senate Saturday that "nobody has expected that prohibition would be rigidly enforced up to the present hour," the Governor declared that every "self-respecting, law-abiding American must resent the spectacle of a senator of the United States publicly confessing that he does not expect the Constitution to be obeyed. If Senator Watson does not, the people of the United States who forced the enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment to expect it to be obeyed."

The Governor added that he has no sympathy for investigations as "merely fishing expeditions," but that "it is high time to put an end to the corruption and inefficiency which exist in the federal enforcement service."

"Since that service will not enforce the law," he concluded, "the people are entitled to know the reason why."

SENATORS CAUCUS ON IMMIGRATION

Washington, April 14. (INS.)—Twenty dramatic restrictions of immigration than is proposed in either the Reed or Johnson bills now pending in Congress was decided upon today by a conference of Republican Senators called to determine party policy.

Majority of the forty-one Senators attending the conference voted in favor of a bill that would limit immigration to one per cent quotas based upon the census of 1910. The Reed bill proposed two per cent on the 1890 census, and the Johnson bill two per cent on the 1890 census.

Washington, April 14. (INS.)—"The immigration bill which passed the house carrying a Japanese exclusion amendment" is designed for the repudiation of the white race," Representative Johnson, Republican, of Washington, its author, declared today in a statement striking back at Japanese Ambassador Hanihara who warned Secretary of State Hughes that "grave consequences" might follow the enactment of the exclusion provision.

"The bill is now a matter of legislation, and neither threats, appeals nor activities of commercial organizations or foreign agents should affect the result," Johnson said.

LINCOLN SHOT 59 YEARS AGO TODAY

Washington, April 14. (INS.)—Today is the fifty-ninth anniversary of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. He was fatally shot in Ford's theatre, here on April 14, 1865.

The only observance here were ceremonies by the Lincoln camp of the Sons of Veterans.

THIRTEEN MORE MEN ARRESTED AT LILLY

Lilly, Pa., April 14.—Efforts of Sergeant Espey Jimcousky, state trooper, and more than a dozen of his policemen who have been combing the district around Lilly for the past week for clues leading to the arrest of the alleged civilian rioters who it is charged swapped shots with members of the Ku Klux Klan in the fatal gun battle a week ago last Saturday night, came to a climax late Saturday night when the officers swept into Lilly again and arrested 13 men. The 13 charged with murder were taken before Justice of the Peace Veil, who in a hearing remanded them to the Clearfield jail without bail.

The arrests came as a surprise to citizens of Lilly, who after the excitement of three raids last week, in which Klansmen were arrested, had gone peacefully about the town under the impression that the worst of the aftermath of the gun battle was over.

State troopers, however, made known last night, and during the last three days of the week had bunched together many names of those all.

To have been present when the shooting was going on and previous to the riot when it was charged by Klansmen, one of their members narrowly escaped being hanged by a mob of citizens.

County Detective Whitely said before the justice that they had been carrying deadly weapons in connection with the affair of last Saturday and they were charged with rioting and murder. Ten of them had been previously charged with rioting and were held under bail in sums ranging from $1,000 to $1,250.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 14. (INS.)—Fire, believed to have been started by crossed wires, early today destroyed the buildings of the Pittsburgh field club at Aspinwall near here with a loss estimated at $250,000.

John C. Camozzi, the club steward saved his wife and seven year old daughter from the flames by jumping from the spreading flames to the thickly wooded section in the rear of the club buildings.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 14. (INS.)—Dorothy Rumpel, three years old, died today from burns received when her clothing caught fire from a burning pile of rubbish in the yard at her home.

Bellefonte, Pa.—Joseph Velotta is alive today and his wife and five children are happy that he was not electrocuted this morning, thanks to Governor Pinchot who granted a reprieve.

Velotta was to be electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary today for the murder of Thomas Hopkins and Patrolman Edward C. Couch, who were shot to death in October, 1922.

Wheeler-Brookhart To Ask Senate To Charge Daugherty With Contempt

Washington, April 14.—A formal request upon the Senate to institute contempt proceedings against Mal S. Daugherty, brother of the former Attorney General, was today prepared at a secret session of the Wheeler-Brookhart committee.

Public hearings were postponed until tomorrow while the committee deliberated action against Daugherty for his defiance of a subpoena issued at Washington Court House, Ohio, and his refusal to produce records from the Midland National Bank there, of which he is president. The committee also considered the question of asking the Senate to order his immediate arrest and deliverance to the sergeant-at-arms' custody until the books are produced.

Evelyn Nesbit Speeds to the Scene of Trial To Prevent Him Getting Liberty From Asylum.

NOW MILLIONAIRE

By GEORGE T. HOOK
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Philadelphia, Pa., April 14.—Harry K. Thaw was an interested spectator in court this morning when a jury of 12 men—two of them colored—were chosen to try his sanity plea. Known only to a few newspapermen, lawyers and court attaches, the slayer of Stanford White, guarded by two suave-looking asylum guards, seated himself among the spectators in the front of the courtroom when court opened at 10 o'clock and later moved his seat further back.

When court adjourned at 12:15 Thaw, still in the company of his guards, went to luncheon with his counsel and the alienists who will testify in his behalf.

Court reconvened at 1:15 o'clock when formal arguments commenced. Over a thousand curious men and women stormed the outer door of the court in City Hall before the case opened but entrance was granted only to the witnesses, counsel, newspapermen and lawyers interested in the trial. Every seat in the courtroom was occupied and a few stood on the side aisles.

Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's divorced wife, arrived in the city this morning from Atlantic City, but she did not appear at the jury selection. She became a party defendant when Judge Monaghan, the trial judge, granted her petition to oppose Thaw's release in behalf of her son, Russell William Thaw, who she alleges, is likewise the son of the Pittsburgh millionaire. Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of Harry, was also absent at the opening session but was to be present this afternoon.

The choosing of a jury consumed less than two hours. Each jurymen was questioned regarding his familiarity with the Thaw case as recounted in newspapers. Former Judge John M. Patterson led the examination of jurors for Thaw, and William Gray, counsel for Evelyn Nesbit, was chief examiner for the defendants. Thaw's divorce wife and trustees Howard Irish and Dr. Walter Riddle, of Pittsburgh.

Two New York detectives were in court this morning but they refused to make statements on the report that they were from the office of District Attorney Banton of New York and carried a warrant for Thaw's arrest, in the event he is declared sane, on criminal charge arising out of Thaw's alleged assault on Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City in a New York hotel in 1917. Gump is said to be in San Francisco now.

Philadelphia, April 14.—After over fourteen years of life in insane asylums, broken only by a two year interlude of liberty and periodic "vacations" to the home of his aged mother, Harry K. Thaw, 53, slayer of Stanford White, and now a millionaire, today began his second fight for freedom before a judge and jury in common pleas court No. 5.

Thaw contends he has recovered his sanity and five neurologists chosen by his counsel uphold his contention and will testify that he is fitted for release from the Pennsylvania hospital for mental and nervous diseases and qualified to assume control of his estate, variously estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

Opposition to Thaw's release has developed from two of the trustees of the Thaw estate—Howard Irish and Dr. Walter Riddle, both of Pittsburgh.

The third trustee is Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, Harry's aged mother, who sustains him in his sanity plea. Alienists who examined Thaw in behalf of the trustees have, according to Arthur C. Dickinson, counsel for the trustees, found him to be still mentally deficient and will so testify.

Every effort will be made to avoid sensationalism, according to former Judge John M. Patterson, who with Judge John M. Patterson, who with (Continued On Page Two.)

ANGLING ARMY WILL TAKE TO STREAMS EARLY TOMORROW

Not the Best of Sport Is

Weather Man Is Doing
His Share to Help.

ROADS DRYING UP

Harrisburg, April 14.—If the weather is clear and stream conditions right approximately 50,000 persons will be whipping the streams of the State tomorrow for the varied kinds of spotted beauties. In most sections it was believed swollen streams will have abated sufficiently to permit good angling.

The Department of Fisheries estimate of 50,000 anglers tomorrow was said to be conservative. The Department's statistics cover only licensed fishermen. Eighteen years is the legal age at which a license is required and the department has no way of accurately estimating those under that limit who do not need a license.

Nathan R. Buller, Commissioner of Fisheries, who for more than 40 years has been actively engaged in fish cultural work and for half of that period has let a fight for conservation of the finny tribes of Pennsylvania will not be among those on the streams tomorrow. Instead of wading along some mountain stream he will be in Washington attending a hearing on the alleged "stealing" by Chicago of the waters of Lake Erie.

Buller says he does not expect the season to be as good as in former years due to the small amount of stocking which was possible last season. The long continued drought during the late summer and early autumn prevented stocking many of the most popular trout streams of the State.

Use of special devices for which the Department issues permits will be authorized after tomorrow in all streams except those where trout are found. Special devices for which permits are required include dip nets, burr hooks and loops or snares but none of these may at any time be used in what are listed as trout streams. Requests for these permits already have been sent here by the hundreds and it is expected that the total will reach 50,000.

Last year there were 214,392 fishing-licenses issued to all classes of fishermen. That was a gain of 11,331 over the previous year. This year, it is expected the number issued will increase over last sufficiently to reach the 300,000 mark.

County treasurers' reports to the Department here indicate that the majority of the licenses are issued with the approach of the bass and salmon open season and the coming of summer vacations. A great many of the licenses, officials say, are issued to persons who consider them part of their annual vacation equipment and use them only during that period.

The Department at the present time is conducting a campaign to have the age at which licenses are required reduced from 18 to 16 years. This plan, if adopted, it is asserted, will result in greatly increased receipts and therefore more money for stocking purposes.

LOCAL BOY IN COLLEGE STUNT

Earl Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Phillips, of South Fourth street, a student at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., has been picked as one of seven of "the snappiest, smoothest, best dressed shiks on the campus" performed in the star male chorus of "Tea Time in Tibet," the Tambourine and Bones musical comedy given by the University Wednesday and Thursday evening of last week. Several hundred students "tried out" for the positions.

ADMINISTRATION WILL FIGHT BACK AT FURTHER ATTACKS ON CABINET; WATSON WILL BE SENATE SPOKESMAN

Washington, April 14.—The policy of passive silence and non-resistance in the face of Democratic attacks on cabinet officers and the administration generally, which the administration has observed since the "scandal era," in Washington began several months ago, was tossed into the di-card today. It was decided at the White House that henceforth a spirited defense will be made in the Senate to any and all attacks made against Government officials.

The main features of the administration's program of "fighting back" were agreed upon today at an hour's conference between President Coolidge, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the latest cabinet officer to be shelled, and Senator James E. Watson, Republican, of Indiana, who will act as chief spokesman in the Senate for the administration.

The stormy session of the Senate on Saturday, in which President Coolidge was accused of trying to throttle all of the Senate investigations, and Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, introduced a resolution to expunge from the record Mr. Coolidge's communication exhorting the Senate to its legislative functions, was responsible for the decision reached at the White House today.

The President apparently has decided that meekness and silence in the face of attack has ceased to be a virtue, and is conducive only to increased attacks. Consequently he called Senator Watson to the White House today to canvass the situation. The Republicans of the Senate, at least the "regulars," will oppose with every power at their command the employment of Francis J. Henev of San Francisco, as a special counsel to aid at the present investigation into the Bureau of Internal Revenue, irrespective of whether Henev is to be paid by Senator Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, or by the Senate itself.

The employment of Henev was suggested to Couzens by Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania. It is understood that Secretary Mellon informed the President at their morning conference that he believed Gov. Pinchot's "interference" in the matter was inspired by the political difficulties they have long had in Pennsylvania politics. Mr. Mellon told the President, it was said, that he had no objections to an investigation of his department that aims at constructive ends, but he was strongly averse to being investigated by private individuals whom he believed were bent on making political capital out of it.

Mellon further informed Mr. Coolidge, it is understood, that he cannot be responsible for the efficiency of the Treasury Department if the investigation as outlined by Gov. Pinchot and conducted by Henev is permitted to go on.

Senator Watson said after leaving the White House that if he made any reply to Gov. Pinchot it would be from the Senate floor.

Runaway Team Stirs Crowded Third Street

Many a brave heart beats beneath a ragged vest. You occasionally find one beneath the latest style sport shirt, too. Such an one was located at 1:15 this afternoon. Sam Bowman parked his team down along Third street below Market about one o'clock and left them standing in the street while he transacted a little business in a nearby store.

While Sam was away the Penny train happened along and feeling somewhat skittish with the warm spring sun on their backs the nags decided to match their speed with the train and, with tails erect and streaming in the air like steers in the corn, they took after that train. Children ran, women screamed, and the faces of strong men blanched to the color of chalk as the team, yanking the heavy farm wagon after them, dashed down the street.

There is always a hero lurking about where you least expect him and "our hero" was at hand in this emergency. As the team neared Leavy's undertaking parlors Bob Leavy, "attracted by the noise and commotion, rushed to the door. He sensed the situation at a glance and with a panther-like spring was across the porch and after the runaways. Being somewhat of an athlete, "our hero" began to gain at once on the team and war at the throat latch of the lead horse as Pine street was reached. Seizing the rein in his strong right hand, Bob hung on like Tax Collector Kerr after a female taxable, and soon succeeded in stopping the fiery steeds in their mad career.

A cheer went up for "our hero" as the team came to a halt and Bob was soon surrounded by a bunch of young ladies all endeavoring to congratulate him on his bravery. One or two of the "more confederate" of the lot endeavored to hobnobize the hero, but Bob said the open season for kissing him didn't begin anytime before 8 p. m. on any day and he managed to escape further attention.

No damage was done but it was a narrow escape.

PERCY YOUNG, WHO HAD BEEN MISSING FOUR DAYS, VICTIM

Early Thursday In His Working Clothes; Had Long Been a Sufferer.

WAS 34 YEARS OLD

The dead body of Percy Young, who had been missing since early Thursday morning, was found along the south bank of the river opposite the New York Central railroad shops below the tannery about 6.45 o'clock. Young, who was about 34 years of age, had been a resident of Clearfield for a number of years, coming here with his family from Woodland. He was an upright, industrious young man and was respected by all who knew him.

He suffered from epilepsy and it is thought by his family that he had a seizure while crossing the M. & P. bridge at the head of the railroad viaduct and topped off the bridge into the river and was drowned.

He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: William, of Woodland, Charles, Clair, Clarence, and Burton, of Clearfield and Mary of Altoona.

It has been learned that the young man left his room at the "Steamer" boarding house on Reed street about 4:30 o'clock Thursday morning, dressed in his working clothes, and had not been seen since that time. It is his body was located this morning by railroad men. Coroner Pullen was notified of the finding of the body and will make an investigation of the case, although there is no suspicion of foul play.

The remains were taken in charge by undertaker Leavy and after he had prepared for burial were removed to the home of Clair Young on Mt. Bride street, and the funeral will be held from there.

Young's body was found by Lester Carson, who was coming across the river in a boat to go to his work in the railroad yard. It had lodged against a submerged log with just the back of his head showing above water.

Dr. Pollum, the county coroner, had not arrived in town from DuBois up to noon today and no arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

Morris Township Still Operator Put Out Of Business By Sheriff

Sheriff T. J. Lowell, Deputy Hummelbaugh and State Trooper Bush paid a surprise visit to Morris Township Saturday last and succeeded in shutting a couple of liquor law violators.

They first visited the home of William Lidgett at Morrisdale and found the gay and festive William surrounded by five quarts of rumshing, which he said he had provided himself with for use during the trout fishing season. When asked where he got the stuff Lidgett said it was the double distilled product of John P. Pavlock's liquor foundry at Hawk Run.

The dry raiders, armed with this dope, returned to Chester Hill, got a search warrant for Pavlock's place and then doubled back to Hawk Run. They found one gallon of finished product and destroyed 50 gallons of mash.

Both Lidgett and Pavlock were held in $1,000 bail for their appearance at May court.

TRINITY CHURCH NEWS

Yesterday was a goodly Palm Sunday throughout. The school had fine attendance, the young people from college reporting. Figures mounted to 500, with offering $31.31. And the interest in every exercise was keen and direct. Music took on wide range. The large orchestra put up good selections, while the singing had swing and volume. The pastor put out as usual for Easter Sunday 666, which did not satisfy Supt. Tobias, who set "500 plus ONE." That is a taking for this week.

The morning exposition was on Matt 21:10. Special music was enjoyed by both congregations, very many strangers being in at night. Hymns were sung by Way Powell and Mrs. Gallaher.

These were the events: Special services for Passion Week on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. The public is invited, the church being open every day and evening for prayer and worship. Wednesday afternoon, 7:00 P. M., Woman's Home Missionary Auxiliary, with Mrs. David Bryan and her group in charge. The Lenten offering envelopes are to be returned.

Next Sunday exceptional Easter services. In morning extra music and the memorial period. At night a great program of representation and music. This event promises to be a most comprehensive and high class service. Trinity has ever given flowers by individuals and families as an Easter memorial to loved ones. It is reported this Monday by Mrs. Maude Powell and daughter to be on Saturday afternoon late. As was possible Easter flowers should be sent by every one attending next Sunday. Special offering on Sunday.

two assistants, will plead Thaw's case. Nevertheless this is expected to develop when Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's divorced wife, takes the stand during the next few days. Her petition to array herself on the side of the opposition is not expected to be opposed by Attorney Patterson. If she takes the stand there is a likelihood that the legitimacy of her son, Russell William Thaw, will be attacked. She petitioned permission to take part in the trial in his behalf. According to counsel for Thaw, it was proved in 1915 at the divorce trial that the boy was born in Potsdam, Germany, in 1910, while Thaw was confined to Matteawan, N. Y. asylum for the criminal insane.

Just before court opened at 10 o'clock, Thaw's counsel divulged Thaw's answer to Evelyn Nesbit's petition that she be permitted to appear in behalf of her son as a party defendant opposing release. Thaw's answer opposed the petition on the ground that "Russell William Thaw is no party to these proceedings; that the statute under which this proceeding is begun provides who shall be the respondent and they are properly before the court."

Thaw will take the stand in his own behalf and it is believed will recite the affair on the Madison Square roof garden in June, 1906, which resulted in the death of Stanford White and his subsequent acquittal of murder on the grounds of insanity.

Thaw won freedom in 1915 when he was declared sane by a jury in the New York Supreme Court. An alleged criminal assault on Frederick Gump, Jr. of Kansas City, in a New York Hotel, ended in his incarceration here in 1917 in Kirkbride's asylum.

Atlantic City, April 14.—Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry K. Thaw was making preparations early today to take a morning train to Philadelphia to attend the hearing in which she slayer of Stanford White will begin another fight to obtain freedom.

Miss Nesbit declared she had nothing to add to her published comment on Thaw's latest attempt to be declared sane in which she said she would oppose his move on the ground that he is still a paranoiac and a menace to society. The counsel, she asserted, had requested she refrain from further comment.

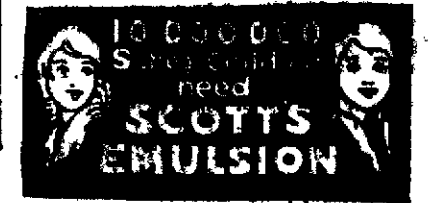

In recent interviews, Miss Nesbit declared her opposition to Thaw's being freed was to protect the interests of her son, Russell Thaw, she said, is the boy's father.

Milk Is Cheaper Than Best Roundsteak

Roundsteak, as purchased at 25 cents a pound retail, represents 8.5 per cent waste (bone and sinew). The edible tissue contains 67.8 per cent water.

The consumer, therefore, pays for 16 ounces of edible roundsteak solids 84 cents, as against 50 cents for the same quantity of milk solids.

Roundsteak not only lacks the salts of lime, iron, and other indispensable mineral constituents of whole food, but it cannot be consumed by young infants at all.

Carnivorous animals find the missing elements of a meat diet in the blood and bones of their victims. In stripping the bone and draining the blood man loses these elements.

Hence, in contrasting a one-sided food at 84 cents a pound with a whole and complete food at 50 cents a pound, we are enabled to appreciate the true value of milk.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

A commission of Cardinals is studying, under orders from the Pope, the scheme of a radically different calendar according to L'Oeuvre. If this is following in the footsteps of Gregory XIII, who in 1582 reformed the Julian calendar by the system now bears his name.

An unusual feature of the plan is that the same date in each month and each year would fall on the same day of the week. For instance, in the month of January, the first of each month for the remainder of time would be a Sunday.

The Cardinals, states L'Oeuvre, are examining carefully the plan to see if it is in any way on the dogma of the Roman Church.

The calendar under consideration is devised by a French savant, M. D. Laperche, who submitted it to the Congress of Lyons. With it each year would consist of 264 days. New Year's Day being regarded as a day of rest, there would be 263 working days.

Out days are divided in 12 groups of 25 days, or four weeks and one day. Since the number of days in the system, there would be no leap year. The objections made by the Catholics should be noted.

The calendar of L'Oeuvre is being considered by the representatives of the various nations and the other nations.

Europe, to meet the present greatest immigration in the history of the country. According to its authors, it not only will adequately meet the present emergency, but it offers a constructive policy for the permanent regulation and restriction of immigration. It is expected to regulate the flow of immigration, prevent congestion at Ellis Island and decrease the number of deportations.

The following table will show how it will regulate the number of immigrants from the various countries as compared with the present law. The first column represents the number of representatives of the different nationalities eligible under act of 1921 and the second column the number to be admitted if the Johnson bill becomes the law:

	1921	1924
United Kingdom	77,342	125,316
France	67,607	102,654
Germany	57,229	82,228
Norway	12,501	13,308
Denmark	5,619	5,970
Sweden	20,042	19,522
Poland	21,076	10,712
Eastern Galicia	5,786	2,140
Austria	7,451	2,606
Yugoslavia	6,426	2,112
Czechoslovakia	14,557	4,462
Hungary	5,634	1,348
Italy	42,057	8,224

Only six of Pennsylvania's 36 members of the House voted against the bill. They were Representatives Edmonds, Ransley and Vane, of Philadelphia; Casey, of Wilkes-Barre; Waters, of Scranton, and Morin, of Pittsburgh.

All represent districts in which there are large numbers of foreign-born residents.

Five Pennsylvanians who did not answer when their names were called on the final roll were Representatives Graham and Welsh, of Philadelphia; Kiess, of Williamsport; McFadden, of Canton and Shreve, of Erie.

Rescued From Gutter

Leaves and debris in gutters are gathered by a new device on a street sweeper which throws them in the way of revolving brushes, these in turn dumping the matter into a box on the curb.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

Yesterday in the Presbyterian Church those who were present were richly blessed in hearing the word of God spoken from the Gospel of St. John 12:19. "Behold the whole world is gone after Him." The beautiful Easter hymn, "The Palms," was an impressive close to the morning worship. The evening message was on the thought of the one word "Must." The Sabbath school showed the largest attendance of this year, with an increase in all departments.

Special services every night this week except Saturday, in charge of Rev. Francis Shunk Downs of Tyrore and Dr. Reeve. The services last week were a means of winning many souls to Christ. It is hoped that those who were present will be equally the same. We are very fortunate in having Mr. Downs of Tyrore. Let us show our appreciation by supporting all the meetings. A short prayer service preceding each meeting at 7:15 in the church chapel, for all who have a life of some one on their heart, who is not yet a Christian. The regular service in the church proper at 7:30, an hour of song and prayer and the gospel message.

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society on Thursday afternoon at 3:00. A very important meeting and the attendance of every woman in the church is earnestly desired. The last meeting of the class of instruction on Saturday afternoon at 4:00 in the church parlor.

A very cordial invitation is extended to every one in Clearfield to attend

Who has to get up to start your kitchen fire?

A STOVE you have to shake is as old-fashioned as a car you have to crank. The work and the waiting to get a fire ready for business are work and time wasted.

You can quickly prove these facts to your own satisfaction by visiting a nearby store where the Florence Oil Range is sold. This modern stove speeds up kitchen work and takes much of the drudgery out of housework.

The Big Burners. The heat in the Florence Stove is so low and so even for cooking that it is not wasted.

Here is how it works

Just touch a match to the Asbestos Kindler. In a few moments there is an intensely hot blue flame close up under the cooking. A turn of the lever regulates the heat to any degree. You can cook every dish on a Florence, from soup to dessert, quickly and well.

The vapor from kerosene is what burns. It is a gas flame, not a wick flame such as you see in the ordinary oil lamp. Kerosene is a cheap and plentiful fuel. The Florence not only is a great convenience, but it cuts fuel bills sharply. You use it only when actually cooking. And it means a cooler, cleaner kitchen.

A sturdy beauty

Notice the quality of the enamel in a Florence Range. Observe that the oil reservoir is light but very durable. If you want an oven, see how the Florence is modeled on the old Dutch oven, and with our patented heat distributor assures even cooking.

There are refinements about the Florence that will appeal to you the minute you see them. Just look in at a store and convince yourself.

Florence products are sold by live hardware, department, and furniture stores.

Florence Leveler. Attached to each leg of the stove, this device enables you to set the stove level on an uneven floor.

ANOTHER MESS

The resignation of Prof. Thomas S. Adams, noted Yale professor and tax expert, as advisor to the Senate Committee investigating the Bureau of Internal Revenue, should serve to point out, more than any other thing that has happened, the personal and political animus behind the attempt to besmirch Secretary of the Treasury Andrew G. Mellon. Despite the fact that Secretary Mellon is looked upon as the world's leading financial expert, he has incurred the personal enmity of Senator Couzens, of Michigan, a political accident, who seeks revenge for fancied wrongs in an investigation which he hopes will uncover something that might possibly bring reproach upon the Treasury head, by reason of the shortcomings of some of the personnel in the revenue department.

No sooner had Senator Couzens started his campaign "to get something on the Secretary of the Treasury" than all the buzzards of politics took the trail and began to hover over the mess they hoped Couzens might uncover by lavish use of the power of the purse. Amid this flock of night hawks, at rather at its head, stalks Pennsylvania's Governor, who is attempting in every manner possible and on every occasion to get a fact of presidential lightning in his direction. Just as Senator Couzens launched his investigation Governor Pinchot got into a fight with him and, it is said on good authority, has since been the power behind the throne, offering aid and counsel in the attempt to "get" Secretary Mellon.

Which is the suggestion, and regardless of the fact that there was no violation of law for it, Couzens employed Francis H. Heney, a notorious mess-maker, to assist in the attempt to besmirch the Secretary of the Treasury, and as Heney is not the creature or servant of the Senate Committee, his salary is or will be paid by Couzens and Pinchot out of their private millions.

Senator Watson, administration leader in the Senate, scored Governor Pinchot in a Senate speech on Saturday for his part in the affair and forced the Governor to admit that part. When caught with the goods, in the proposed attempt to blacken the character of his colleague on the national delegate slate, Governor Pinchot attempted to square himself with the statement that he had been aiding Senator Couzens in his investigation, having entered up with the Michigan Senator purely in the interest of public duty. It was a typical Pinchot explanation of a typical Pinchot act. It will be remembered that Senator Couzens in a speech shortly before the present Congress convened, came out strongly in favor of five per cent beer and a consequent modification of the Volstead Act. A fine combination, isn't it?

There is no reason for our belief that Governor Pinchot is a man for prohibition has to take second place in his efforts to headwind the delegates to the National Convention nominating him for the presidency. Prof. Adams said all there was to say regarding the Couzens-Pinchot attempt to get Mr. Mellon, in the following paragraph: "The important shortcomings of the Bureau of Internal Revenue are on or near the surface. They are known to hundreds of people conversant with the work of the bureau. They are known to the press. To exploit them gratuitously, for the sake of probing, impresses me—if I may say so without offense—as a particularly demoralizing form of conduct. The task worth attempting, the man's work in this connection, is to devise and institute adequate remedies."

Progress Editorials for Women

BEHOLD, HOW GREAT A MATTER

By FLORENCE DAVIES

After thirty-four years of ceaseless study, a great scientist is halted at the very triumph of his career. Howard Carter, the man who has told us all that we know about the tomb of Tutankhamen and its treasures is halted at its portals.

Why?

The answer to that question would contain many columns. Perhaps one day we will know all the fine points in the quarrel between the scientists and the Egyptian government. But we do know that the Egyptian government felt that Mr. Carter was taking too much for granted and that Mr. Carter felt that the Egyptian government hadn't been quite fair.

Perhaps out of it was due to the fact that the find turned out to be so much more valuable than any one had supposed it would be. Perhaps, too, Mr. Carter was more of the scientist than the diplomat.

In any case the result, were painful. Just what fault it was, we don't know. But the much we do know is that while Lord Carnarvon was living, various difficulties arose. "But these," says a report of the Egyptian minister of public works, "were all smoothed over, thanks to the good sense and courtesy of the regretted late Lord Carnarvon."

There are not our words. They are the words of the Egyptian minister. The implication is plain. In so great an undertaking there were bound to be disagreements and difficulties.

But Lord Carnarvon ironed them out with good sense and courtesy.

He evidently knew less about mummies but more about life than the expert scientists. Mr. Carter is not to be blamed for that. Science is his business. Science deals with hard, cold facts, with none of the adage smoothed off.

But Lord Carnarvon, not being tied down to a laboratory, had had more time for humane contacts. He instinctively approached every human problem with "good sense and courtesy."

It isn't for us to say, but it's perfectly possible that a great scientist has been thwarted at the threshold of victory, just because, however right he might have been, he failed to be courteous.

No one can read the letters of Walter Page, late ambassador at the Court of St. James, without seeing that if Mr. Page and Lord Gray had been less courteous, less gracious, less well-mannered, the face of history might have been changed.

Some people think good manners, for that is just another name for courtesy, are trivial. Some people think that it's a little effeminate to bother about the small amenities of life and that manners are only a matter of salad forks and finger bowls.

But they may be vastly more. They may be, and often are, the magic key which unlocks the doors of a world where the saving element in a business deal involving millions, the drop of oil which keeps the machinery of nations running smoothly.

Lord Carnarvon didn't know half as much about hieroglyphics as some of the experts. But he held the trump card, in the whole undertaking, courtesy and good sense. The same of diplomacy, the diplomatic of courtesy and good sense, works just as well in the kitchen as in the courts of kings, just as well in the sewing society as in the ministry of foreign affairs of a great nation.

No one can read the letters of Walter Page, late ambassador at the Court of St. James, without seeing that if Mr. Page and Lord Gray had been less courteous, less gracious, less well-mannered, the face of history might have been changed.

China's newest department store in Hankow is to have a theater, a concert hall and other entertainments alongside the bargain counter, for the amusement of its shoppers.

Perfect
To feel much for others and little for ourselves; to restrain our selfish, and exercise our benevolent affections, constitutes the perfection of human nature.—Adam Smith

TAILORED AT FASHION PARK

Originally English

The Royal Park Developments of our tailors at Fashion Park are Americanized adaptations of style thoughts that were originally English—they're today's Version—the new thought. Royal Park is a particularly correct style of genuine distinction—you'll like it and look well in it—you can see it and try it on without obligation.

Your Doctor Will Tell You Your Wife Works Too Hard

The Place: Your doctor's office.

The Time: Any time when your wife's tired to death and wonders if there isn't something physically wrong.

Doctor: "Now, Mr. Smith, there is nothing at all wrong with your wife other than the fact she is tired out. She's working harder in your home than you are in your office. She needs to have the work lightened in your home. If you don't there WILL be something wrong—something serious."

Now, Mr. Man—did you ever stand all day in one place and push an iron over and over clothing until your back is nearly broken? No? Well, your wife does this very thing every Tuesday. And then you wonder why she is grouchy when you come home.

TUESDAY TROUGH-DISPELLING DEMONSTRATION
EVERY DAY THIS WEEK BY MISS MAXWELL

Miss Maxwell hasn't any theorems, any fancy things in the way of thought. She has a demonstration of a machine that will lighten the burden of ironing day and—if such an efficient machine was to be shown you for your store or shop, you'd order it at once.

Come in tomorrow and let us show you that Miss Maxwell CAN lighten the ironing day burden and that you'll be glad you made the slight investment in the UTENCO Ironer.

How Egyptians Made Fire.
The question of how the Egyptians made fire was one that often exercised archeologists. No representation of the process existed on the monuments, nor does the nation appear to have attached any religious significance to the origin of fire. The question was settled by the discovery of a hollow of a regular bowl drill for making fire, together with several sticks showing the burnt holes caused by fire drilling. — National Geographic Society Bulletin

Miss Marian Snyder entertained a number of school teachers the other evening at her home on east George street. The crowd was composed of all ladies.

George McClure, a farmer residing on the James B. Smith farm about one mile from town, is slowly recovering from an attack of pneumonia. He is the youngest brother of Mr. McClure.

The erection of the new end of the bridge, the interior has been completed and the interior will be completed in a few days. The new State bank building will occupy the room now occupied by the Opera House. The bank is expected to be completed about June 1st and the bank will be open for business.

A number of citizens assembled in the borough building one evening during the latter part of last week for the purpose of organizing a band during the summer. The result of this meeting has not been made known yet, therefore we are unable to say what will be the result of the band.

Mr. Crownover is tearing down the Caldwell barn and making ready to erect a dwelling house. Dr. Erhard had that old shed on rear of his residence lot removed thereby making things a little more pleasant for those who live nearby.

Judging from the condition of the iron work on the Pee-Wee's Nest bridge and also on that of the Susquehanna river bridge at foot of State street, it is high time for a good heavy coat of paint if the same is to be preserved for any length of time. Both a county bridges.

A goodly number of Curwensville people went up to Bloomington Friday night and heard a rattling good sermon on "Citizenship."

Mrs. Samuel Young, an aged lady residing over on South Side, suffered a stroke yesterday forenoon. She had been cut and fed the chicken earlier in the day.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe, or even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief. Colds are merely congestion. Musterole is made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a non-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold. As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief. To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 25c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

Coughing is unnecessary and can be controlled

COUGHING is frequently due to an irritation of the throat and lung tissue which persistent hacking only makes worse. You can stop coughs of this character almost at once with Dr. King's New Discovery. It relieves the irritating tickle and quiets the impulse to cough, thus giving the inflammation that is causing the cough a chance to clear up. You'll like its agreeable taste. All druggists.
